

The Answer

If your steps are getting slower
And you need to use a cane,
If you're tired of making dinner,
Heating "leftovers" once again,
If your dearest friends have left you
And the family's far away,
If the night is seeming endless
More endless still the day,
If you long to talk to someone
But the 'phone no longer rings,
If you're becoming apprehensive
And you dread what each day brings,

continued

Then come to "Cobblestone Gardens"
Where each month is filled with fun
And you try all sorts of programmes
That you never might have done.
The rooms are warm and cozy
The staff much warmer still;
The meals are fresh and varied,
You always get your fill.
The hours pass so quickly
Next thing you know it's Spring
And when you turn the calendar page
You're ready for what it may bring.

Margery S. Ritchie